

Then Kim's Mum said, "It's getting dark now. It's time we started back. Let's start to pick up all the sacks and things. Kim, can you pick up the sacks. Anna, will you pick up the cans. And Rosa, can you get the rest of the things for me."

Anna bent down by the trees to pick up a can. "A face! A face!" she yelled twice. "I see a face in the trees!"

Then Jack jumped out of the dark. "I was hiding all the time," he said. "I sang with you and had lots of fun!"

"You tricked us," said Kim, "but I'm glad you did. You are just in time. You can help us take all the things home."
